A reply to this memorandum was received in Finance on 17 February 1953 which advised that your Division had no reason to change the recommendations previously made to hold Major [ ] accountable, since the subject's accounts were so hopelessly confused prior to his entering the hospital and there was no indication in the report that they were adversely affected by reasons of actions that may have taken place during his absence. It was further stated that the file did not support his statement that "the cash had been counted on 30 November and later reconciliation showed that they balanced on that date". On 17 March 1953 a further communication was addressed to Major [ ] advising him that the record failed to indicate any circumstances which would relieve him of his responsibility to repay the shortage of public funds.
